

G'day Everybody,

We have now hit the cooler (did we even have summer?) months of Autumn. When did Summer happen? I think we all blinked and missed it!

As much as we all love summer, there is nothing cosier, then getting 'comfy' on the sofa, watching a good movie, with a nice cup of hot chocolate, or a whiskey! Whatever takes your fancy!

Let's hope winter stays in the 20+!

Enjoy!

Have a great week everybody, stay safe!

The Caladenia Team

To Autumn by John Keats

Season of mist and mellow fruitfulness,
Close bosom-friend of the maturing sun;
Conspiring with him how to load and bless
With fruit the vines that round the thatch-eaves run;
To bend with apples the moss'd cottage trees,
And fill all fruit with ripeness to the core;
To swell the gourd, and plump the hazel shells
With a sweet kernel; to set buddingmore,
And still more, later flowers for the bees,
Until they think warm days will never cease,
For summer has o'er-brimm'd their clammy cells

Autumn by Emily Dickinson

The morns are meeker than they were,
The nuts are getting brown;
The berry's cheek is plumper
The rose is out of town
The maple wears a gayer scarf,
The field a scarlet gown
Lest I should be old fashioned,
I'll put a trinket on

Autumn in Australia begins on March 1 and lasts until May 31, marking when the days begin to shorten as it cools towards winter. In the northern hemisphere, March 20 or 21 is the spring equinox and marks the start of spring. In the southern hemisphere, this is the vernal equinox and should be the de facto start of autumn. The Australian seasons have been simplified by starting each season on the first day of each season's starting month. So, summer begins on December 1, autumn on March 1, winter on June 1, and spring on September 1.

Whatever the rationale behind how the seasons begin and end in Australia, simply think of the Australian autumn as the months of March, April, and May.

End of Daylight-Saving Time

Daylight saving time ends on the first Sunday in April in the Australian Capital Territory, New South Wales, South Australia, Tasmania, and Victoria. The Northern Territory and the states of Queensland and Western Australia do not observe daylight saving time.

Autumn Foliage

There is a magical quality to autumn when the leaves start to change colour, from green to yellow, orange, and varying shades of red.

Unfortunately, you will not see masses of colourful foliage in the country's north nor in most Australian cities, except perhaps in Canberra where large numbers of deciduous trees exhibit more dramatic seasonal changes.

It is the deciduous trees that lose their leaves in the winter and in the process undergo changes in colour in the autumn. While there are deciduous trees in many parts of Australia, they may not make much of an impact compared to New England autumn foliage.

Tracts of wilderness, such as in New South Wales, comprise large numbers of non-deciduous conifers, eucalyptus, and other evergreens that do not shed leaves in the cold of winter.

You know you've reached middle age when you're cautioned to slow down by your doctor, instead of by the police.

Potato Leek Soup

Servings: 6

Prep Time: 25 Minutes

Cook Time: 40 Minutes

Total Time: 1 Hour 5 Minutes

INGREDIENTS

- 3 tablespoons unsalted butter
- 4 large leeks, white and light green parts only, roughly chopped (about 5 cups)
- 3 cloves garlic, peeled and smashed
- 2 pounds Yukon Gold potatoes, peeled and roughly chopped into 1/2-inch pieces
- 7 cups low sodium chicken or vegetable broth
- 2 bay leaves
- 3 sprigs fresh thyme
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1 cup heavy cream
- Chives, finely chopped, for serving

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Melt the butter over medium heat in a large soup pot. Add the leeks and garlic and cook, stirring regularly, until soft and wilted, about 10 minutes. Adjust the heat as necessary so as not to brown.
2. Add the potatoes, broth, bay leaves, thyme, salt and pepper to pot and bring to a boil. Cover and turn the heat down to low. Simmer for 15 minutes, or until the potatoes are very soft.
3. Fish out the thyme sprig and bay leaves, then purée the soup with a hand-held immersion blender until smooth. (Alternatively, use a standard blender to purée the soup in batches; see note.) Add the heavy cream and bring to a simmer. Taste and adjust seasoning with salt and pepper. If soup is too thin, simmer until thickened. If it's too thick, add water or stock to thin it out. Garnish with fresh herbs if desired.
4. Note: If using a standard blender to purée the soup: be sure not to fill the jar more than halfway; leave the hole in the lid open and cover loosely with a dishtowel to allow the heat to escape; and pour blended soup into a clean pot.
5. Freezer-Friendly Instructions: The soup can be frozen, without the cream, for up to 3 months. Defrost the soup in the refrigerator for 12 hours and then reheat it on the stovetop over medium heat until hot. Once heated through, add the cream and bring to a simmer before serving.
